Cement Sewer Pipe.
OSWEGO, N.Y., Oct. 29, 1884.—For the information of those who are misled concerning Cement Sewer pipe, I wish to state that such sewer pipe is being very extensively manufactured and used in the State of Wisconsin, and is preferred to vitrified. First, for its great strength and durability. It being from one-third to one-half stronger, and less liable to break in the ditch. Being so nearly packed, any grinding between iron moulds, it becomes impervious to water or acids, and, if one of these pipes such as made in Wisconsin, is cemented tight at one end and filled with water, the water will stay there, and it evaporates, which shows that it does not filter through. The other pipe soon becomes filled with fine rock-like it becomes. Second, this pipe is preferred to all others on account of its shape. The larger sizes are egg-shape, contracting the flow in a narrow channel at the bottom, increasing its velocity, keeping it clean and at the same time having a larger area above the danger volume of water we have to deal with. Third, the bottom, which makes it lay firm in the ditch, keeping it in shape, while a round pipe is more liable to roll and get out of shape, either in the filling or settling of the ditch. Cement pipe has been used for sewers in England and various parts of the old world for over one hundred years, and has proven indestructible, either by the action of sewage or time, and is still very extensively used in London and various other European cities. Brooklyn, N. Y., has over fifty miles of cement pipe sewers, and pronounces it entirely satisfactory. Query—Why is cement pipe not good enough for Bangor? Why is cement used in filling around brick sewers, and plastered all over the interior surface? Simply because sewage will not go through it to be filtered through the porous brick. Yours respectfully, C. JEWETT.

"Saved by Fire".
It is a common expression, often heard from those who have realized, by personal use, the curative powers of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. We cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died from lung troubles.—E. Brandon, Palestine, Tex.
Also, six months ago I had a severe Hemorrhage of the Lungs, brought on by a harassing Cough, which deprived me of sleep and rest. I had used various cough balsams and expectorants, without obtaining relief. A friend advised me to try
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
I did so, and am happy to say that it helped me at once. By continued use this medicine cured my cough, and, I am satisfied, saved my life.—Mrs. E. Coburn, 18 Second st., Lowell, Mass.
I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for over a year, and sincerely believe I should have been in my grave, had it not been for this medicine. It has cured me of dangerous affection of the lungs, for which I had almost despaired of ever finding a remedy.—D. A. McMullen, Windsor, Province of Ontario.
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved my life. Three years ago I took a very severe Cold which settled on my lungs. I consulted physicians, and took the remedies they prescribed, but failed to obtain relief until I began using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Two Bottles of this medicine completely restored my health.—Lizzie M. Allen, West Lancaster, Ohio.

The Trouble with Mexico.

BLUNDERS OF THE STATE DEPARTMENT—OPINIONS OF EX-CONGRESSMAN JOHN H. RICE—WHAT HE KNOWS ABOUT THE MEXICAN PEOPLE.

[New York Tribune.]

Having recently spent nearly three months in Mexico—with abundant leisure and opportunity for acquaintance with the governing classes there—I think I can speak with some degree of understanding and accuracy upon the questions now threatening disturbance of the amicable relations which should exist between "the two Republics." I would not believe that an actual state of war might grow out of these questions, but for the reflection that such calamity was probably averted only by the opportune action of Representative Hitt, which defeated the mischievous resolutions recently sprung upon the House of Representatives, in Washington, by the Secretary of State, through his pliant benchman, the chairman of the Committee of Foreign Affairs. I know nothing of the travail and birth of the resolution in committee, and nothing of the paternity of the "abortion" beyond the declaration of the mother who made the presentation upon the floor of the House. I do know something of the haste and carelessness given, with which business is disposed of in the closing hours of a session of Congress. Then, in committees, as well as in open sessions of the House, much is necessarily done "upon trust" in those who present new or urgent business; therefore, I venture the opinion that the resolutions referred to were not well considered and acted upon by the committee in an orderly and careful manner. This opinion is well fortified by the patriotic action of Mr. Hitt, who boldly and successfully antagonized that which purported to be the unanimous report of a committee of which he was a member. Much excitement and ill feeling have been engendered through the stupid blundering of our Secretary of State and the "Buffalo Bill" performances of the Governor of Texas. This has already resulted in great injury to the business and social relations which were existing, and should exist, between the peoples of the two Governments. Actual war can only come through the continued bluster and blundering of the State Department, or a settled purpose on the part of the Administration to enlarge the area and extend the power of "the solid South" and the Democratic party by forcible annexation of the northern States of Mexico. The danger lies in the unlimited resources of the head of the Department in the former commodities (always reserving the "bluster" when there is a powerful array of patriots in the field), and the wild cavorting and prancing bellwinings of a lot of "Texas cattle," wearing the honors and claiming the wisdom which should pertain to high official position. Our only safety lies in the conservatism, good sense and independence of character claimed for President Cleveland. If he shall stand firmly and honorably upon the principles and obligations solemnly embodied in the treaty of Guadelupe Hidalgo between the two governments, the war clouds will disappear and the honor of the Government be justly vindicated. That Mexico will be strictly governed by her obligations under the treaty, and the principles of international law, and will exhaust every honorable means in her power to preserve peace, is beyond question by any intelligent person. The false rumors of preparations on the part of Mexico to invade any part of Texas are only the mischievous devices of the "border ruffians" who desire war, that profit, pillage and plunder may follow in the lurid paths of death and destruction.

All the best interests of Mexico are involved in the maintenance of peace with this country. The suggestion that she desires war to get rid of some of her northern States and their turbulent population, is as wild and baseless as a lunatic's dream. The idea that Mexico, with her depleted treasury and low financial credit, would incur the vast liabilities of war in order to dispose of a part of her domain for nothing is too ridiculous to be considered seriously. If she should desire such disposition of her territory she would rather aim to sell it to us at a large price, and so replenish rather than further exhaust her resources. It is possible that this Administration might be foolish enough to make such a trade, if Mexico would negotiate, and so satisfy the political schemes of the unhesty South. The governing classes of Mexico thoroughly understand our country, our Government, and our people—in marked contrast to the stolid ignorance of our people in regard to Mexico, her Government, and her people. They fully appreciate our resources, our greatness and our power, while we persistently judge them by their record, made under the sway of an intolerant State Church, when revolution was a pastime and brigandage an unrestrained revel. That trinity of evils long since passed away. Under the wise and progressive policy of the "liberal party," and its vigorous administration of the Government, from Juarez to Diaz, a regenerated Mexico has arisen. Now, freedom and equality of religious conscience and worship are secured to all; brigandage has been suppressed; life and liberty and property are well protected; justice is speedily administered and crime ruthlessly punished; education is fostered; common schools established and maintained; internal improvements and material development, everywhere encouraged; foreign capital and immigrants cordially invited, welcomed and protected; the spirit of disorder and revolution wherever manifested effectually suppressed and overt acts punished. I was more than two and a half months in the City of Mexico and saw its people under various circumstances and conditions, in business, in pleasure, in celebrations, in churches, in places of amusement, in parks and streets, in homes and hovels, and in all that time I did not hear an angry word or see a drunken brawl. I have never seen a place of its size (350,000 people) so orderly and thoroughly policed, and where life and property are so well guarded and protected as in that city, and so of every other place I visited in Mexico.

It is unquestionably true that the Mexican people dislike us Americans more than any other foreign people, and would like us better if we were further off. They will not forget, and we should not expect them to forget, that we have taken from them by the Guadelupe and Gadsden treaties more than a full half of all their original territory; unjustly and without provocation, as they think. They know that they are being constantly misrepresented and slandered by a set of mean adventurers and unscrupulous letter-writers who have invaded their borders for purposes of speculation or sensational notoriety. They have been disgusted with the braggadocio and swagger of many whisky drinking, tobacco chewing American drones and loafers following in the wake of railroad construction. Notwithstanding all this, the Mexican Government, acting upon the fact that the geographical positions of the two nations cannot be changed and upon the homely but wise old maxim: "Keep close to a kicking horse," has done everything in its power to cultivate and maintain amicable, social and business relations with our government and our people. In that spirit she made most liberal contracts with Americans for the construction of railroads and other works of material development within her territories. True, she has not been able to meet all her obligations under such contracts to the great detriment in some cases of the other contracting parties, but she honorably stated her inability, and has made the best exertions in her power to adjust her obligations to them and to other creditors. This has been happily accomplished, and the honorable intentions of the Government vindicated.

In the same spirit of amity and good neighborhood, the Mexican Government next proposed, through her able representatives at Washington, the commercial or reciprocity treaty which has just been defeated by a strange alliance between "horizontal" humbugs and "Bourbon" protectionists, in the Committee of Ways and Means of our House of Representatives; not only defeated, but foully murdered by an insulting and false report based upon ignorance or a malicious misrepresentation of facts.

The report was made by the tall "end-man" of the Democratic end of the committee. Was it a part of the plot for a Southern raid upon Mexico? Did they resort to their old game of putting forward a Northern dough-faced Democrat to do their evil work? The singular unanimity of the Southern press in propagating false testimony against Mexico and their savage incitements to war throughout that section, give pertinency to the inquiry. When that report was known to me in Mexico, I made diligent inquiry to ascertain if any valid basis in fact existed for the grave charge therein asserted that "the American citizen living in Mexico and pursuing the peaceful avocations of industry and commerce is without adequate protection in person or property." The result was abundant and conclusive evidence that the charge was mischievous and false. The statements of high American officials, of American Protestant missionaries and of American lawyer practising in Mexico, all concurred in this. The lawyer told me that there was never any discrimination in the courts against Americans on account of their nationality. The honored head of the leading missionary establishment there, who had been in Mexico eight years, said that formerly there were persecutions of and personal injuries perpetrated upon missionaries in some of the interior States, but that such wrongs had been discontinued and punished by the federal Government, to which appeals for right and justice were never made in vain, and that as a rule Americans could get the same measure of justice in the courts of Mexico as that meted out to Mexicans. The report is bristling and running over with other statements and conclusions equally false. The clean-cut logic of the report may be illustrated by its statement that the Government of Mexico is "a military despotism in fact," followed by the statement that the local governments are wholly independent of and defy the power of the National Government." Whatever may be said or believed as to the "fore leg" of the problem, it is a fact well known of all men of intelligence, that its "hind leg" is a bold fiction, without a single substantial fact to rest upon, and cannot possibly travel in harmony with its companion. It is high time to stay the crystallization of such logic, fiction and ignorance in our legislative records.

It is doubtless true, that there are many rough and ill-disposed persons along the Mexican border who have committed raids and wrongs upon both sides of the boundary; and the same is equally true of the ranchis and rowdies on our side. The latter may justly regard it as an imputation upon their profession and prowess the suggestion that they are unable to cope with like parties upon the other side. I know nothing of the people upon the borders of the two Republics below El Paso on the American side, save Paso del Norte on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, which is there and from there to the Gulf of Mexico, the boundary between Mexico and Texas. The two towns lie opposite each other, and each has a population of about 7,000. The people of neither can be justly chargeable with the low and lawless character given them by irresponsible Congressional reports and sensational newspaper correspondents. The people of the two towns were living in amicable and friendly relations, with increasing social and business intercourse, until the unfortunate advent of Consul Brigham and Editor Cutting. I arrived in El Paso from Mexico in the midst of the excitement (a thousand fold exaggerated,) caused by the peremptory demand for the release of Cutting. I took special pains to ascertain the facts involved in the controversy, and found them to be substantially as summarized in your issue of to-day, from the Diario Official, of Mexico. I repeat them in brief as follows:

Cutting was and is an American citizen domiciled in Mexico, (Paso del Norte) and was publishing a newspaper there. Medina, a man of even character with Cutting, a citizen of Mexico, issued a circular for starting a newspaper in opposition to Cutting's. Thereupon Cutting published in his paper a criminal libel, as defined by the laws of the State of Chihuaua, for which he was arrested and arraigned. The Court found him guilty of the offence charged, but leniently waived the fine and costs to which he was liable, upon condition that he make retraction, (conciliation as termed in Mexican law,) of the libel, and publish the same in his paper. The alternative he gladly assented to, but instead of making a fair, manly retraction in his paper, as required by the law and the court, he insulted the latter by making the publication in an obscure part of his paper, in form and type as nearly illegible as possible. Not satisfied with that contempt of court he then crossed the river to El Paso, and there had printed in The Sunday-Herald, over his own signature, an aggravated renewal of the libel against Medina, for which he had made conciliation in Mexico, coupled with animadversions upon the court. Copies of the papers containing the renewed libel he then took back to his home in Paso del Norte, and there distributed and published the same in Chihuahua. For that continued, renewed and aggravated offence he was again arrested and imprisoned, and has justly been tried, convicted and sentenced, as would have been done under like circumstances in any of our State courts.

I obtained my facts from several of the best citizens of El Paso, including one able lawyer, all of whom concurred in the opinion that our Government had placed itself in an untenable position, and that the Mexican courts and authorities were right in the Cutting case, and all concurred in the opinion that the difficulty was the outgrowth of the blundering inefficiency and folly of Consul Brigham and the precipitate action of Secretary Bayard. Suppose the same state of facts had arisen between a citizen of New York and an English court, between New York and Liverpool. Does any body believe that we should have heard a word of protest from our State Department as now administered? No! Our fastidious Secretary would have instantly "smelled fish" and cautiously kept outside of a thousand-miles limit drawn from "headland to headland" of the controversy. The important question now is: Shall we be drawn into an unjust and unprovoked war with Mexico, contrary to every principle of good neighborhood and treaty obligations, by the blundering of a Secretary or to subserve the political purposes of the Solid South and the Democratic party? The issue is alone with the President of the United States. I have faith to believe that he will crush our incipient rebellion in Texas and preserve the honor of the Nation.

In closing this article (already too long) I desire to say that every personal interest I have in Mexico would be best promoted in the acquisition by the United States of Northern Mexico, but as an American citizen, looking to the future welfare of the whole country, I would oppose it upon any terms whatever. We already have enough of the race question to grapple with in the South and in the West, without trading or filibustering for more Indians in Mexico. The governing classes there are largely descended from the Indians, and so understand them better and treat them better, and can govern them better than we do or can. Therefore the two Republics should preserve their boundaries as they are, and each honestly and earnestly strive to understand and help each other. JOHN H. RICE.

NEW YORK, August 14, 1886.

Wanted Reasons for Putting Up His Hands.

Mr. McRoberts, now editor of the Leeds (England) Mercury, was at one time a reporter in this city. He was the most argumentative man, and at the same time, the calmest man that ever struck the town. He would stop work at a fire to argue. Mr. McRoberts was on his way home early one morning, when an American citizen suddenly popped up with a pistol leveled at his head, and said: "Throw up yer hands."

"Why?" asked Mr. McRoberts, undisturbed.

"Throw them up."

"But what for?"

"Put up yer hands," insisted the footpad, shaking his pistol. "Will you do what I tell you?"

"That depends," said Mr. McRoberts, "if ye can show me any reason why I should put up ma hands, I'll no say but what I weel; but yer mere requaist wad be no justification for me to do so absurd a thing. Noo, why should you, a complete stranger, ask me at this hour o' the mornin', on a public street, tae put up ma hands."

"Dash you!" cried the robber; "if you don't quit gabbin' and obey orders I'll blow the top of your head off!"

"What! Faith man, ye must be oot o' yer heed. Come noo, put' buddy," said Mr. McRoberts soothingly, coolly catching the pistol and wresting it with a quick twist out of the man's hand; "come, noo, an' I'll show ye where they'll take care o' ye. Hech! Dinna try tae feesht; or ecod I'll shoot ye. By the way, ye might as weel put up yer wan hands, and just walk ahead o' me. That's it. Trudge away, noo."

And so Mr. McRoberts marched his man to the city prison and handed him over to Captain Douglass.

"It wouldna be a bad idea tae put him in a strait-jacket," he said serenely to the officer. There's leettle doot but the buddy's daft."

And he resumed his interrupted homeward walk.—San Francisco Post.

THE HOUSEKEEPER'S COMPLAINT.

"I am discouraged. I have too much to do. I am tired. I am sick. I suppose I was put into this house to keep it clean, but it is too much work. I won't try. I will go to sleep. I don't care what becomes of the house."

The above is an allegory. The discouraged housekeeper is the liver, which, indeed, is often called "the housekeeper of our health." If it does go to sleep as it threatened, a crowd of diseases are all ready to spring up as a consequence. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" acts upon the liver and assists it in its work of housekeeping and house-cleaning. It is the great liver remedy and blood cleanser, and cures all the long train of chronic maladies resulting from a torpid or sluggish, sleepy liver, such as sick-headache, scrofulous diseases as ulcers, "fever-sores," "white swellings," hip-joint disease, consumption of the lungs (which is really only scrofula manifesting itself in the delicate tissues of these organs), also all skin diseases, as blotches, pimples and eruptions, and all blood taints, however acquired. Geo. F. Wilson, Druggist, Trenton, N. J., says: "Your Dr. Leslie's Special Prescription for Sick Headache does all you claim for it, and do not know of a case where it has been given a fair trial but that it has given perfect satisfaction." Try a bottle. d&w1w aug17

CLEAN OUT YOUR LIVER, and you'll have no Liver Complaints, Kidney Troubles, Loss of Appetite and feel as though you could sleep forever. DR. MANLY HARDY'S GENUINE JAUNDICE BITTERS, by a test of more than sixty years, have proved their worth for such purposes. Tell your Grocer to bring you a 25 CENT bottle or paper and try them. "I have used your Adamson's Botanic Balsam, and unhesitatingly pronounce it superior to any medicine of the kind I ever saw. It is simply invaluable as a household remedy for coughs, colds, and sore throats. I would not be without it."

Wisconsin has been blessed by a refreshing rain storm unaccompanied by severe winds, causing a dissipation of all fears of further forest fires.

A correspondent of the Charleston News and Courier discovers, from an examination of the court dockets, that during the past twelve years 112 men have been killed in the town of Edgefield, S. C.

After a vigorous fight Mr. Bayard's faction was beaten in the Delaware Democratic Convention. This is the first time in about three generations that the divine right of the Bayard family to rule that little State has been questioned

In the Second Iowa District, which was carried two years ago by the Democrats by 4,300 majority, the Republicans will fuse with the Knights of Labor with the hope of electing T. J. O'Meara, of Davenport, a labor reformer and an Independent Democrat, over Judge Hayes, the regular Democratic nominee.

General Neal Dow, stumping the State as he is now doing, in the interests of the Democracy, under the pretence of delivering temperance lectures, abuses distinguished Republicans and life-long temperance advocates, will add more thorns than laurel leaves to his brow as benefactor of the people.—Biddeford Journal.

The Holstein cow Clothilde, owned by Smith, Powell & Tamb, of Syracuse, N. Y., closed her six-year-old record Tuesday. She has given during that time a little more than 26,000 pounds of milk, or about 70 pounds a day. The highest previous record was 23,775 pounds, made three years ago by the cow Echo, owned in Attica, in that State.

Mr. Bayard has been amusing himself by looking up a section of the Revised Statutes under which he imagines that some of the critics of his absurd Mexican policy could be fined or imprisoned. If such a law were to be applied to all who condemn his policy it would be necessary to find prison accommodations for about fifty-five millions of people.

But aside from the rights and equities of the case, we have an inherent, insuperable objection to another war with Mexico. Southern soldiers fought the former war with Mexico and won it. That is to say, what fighting was done was principally done by Southern volunteers, and what running was done was principally done by Northern volunteers.—Richmond Whig, (Dem.)

The above bit of sectionalism carries one back to that period when papers like the Whig told their readers that one Southern soldier was a match for five Yankee volunteers.—Boston Journal.

The English sparrows are on trial at Washington. If the new bureau of the Agricultural Department—Economic Ornithology—scientific reports on this bird, from all parts of the country, are being digested into bulletin form for popular circulation. Prof. Walter B. Barrows, late of the University at Middletown, Conn., and recently appointed First Assistant to the new bureau, is preparing the report. We are in a fair way to soon speak accurately of this much petted and much hated bird.

The Baltimore Sun, Secretary Bayard's personal organ, says of the rumor that he desires to retire from the Cabinet: "Aside from his family bereavements, his official actions have been frequently misconstrued and unjustly attacked by persons who, it is claimed, should have been the last to raise their voices against him. It is not impossible, therefore, that Mr. Bayard may have said that he was weary of the cares which the office of Secretary of State inflicted upon him, and longed for absolute peace and retirement from public affairs." Other Washington specials represent the Secretary as ridiculing the reports and declaring that he shall remain through the Administration.

Commodore Whitney is amazed at the temerity of our yachtsmen in sailing against a cutter of English model. If British ships are needed in the United States Navy, Yankee yacht clubs should supply themselves with British yachts to be in fashion.—N. Y. Tribune.

The New York Sun gives the names of all of the Federal officers who are engaged in the combination, now out of the Federal courts, to break down the Bell Telephone Company in the interest of the Pan-Electric, and adds that of "Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, on whose deliberate consent and acquiescence the whole fabric rests, and at a single word from whom the combination would fall to pieces and collapse like a house built of playing cards."

It would appear that Mr. Bayard, even with the support of the Administration behind him, has met a defeat at the Democratic State Convention in Delaware. There has long been a sort of Montague-Capulet contest in that little Commonwealth and Saulsbury-Montague yesterday scored a victory over the rival house. If this should presage an anti-Bayard control of affairs when the Legislature next comes to elect a United States Senator, the defeat of yesterday might prove a very serious matter indeed for the present Secretary of State if, as indications now go to prove he will, he should then desire to resume the Senatorial toga.—N. Y. World.

A Wail for "Defensive Simplicity."

[New York World Aug 17]

Grover Cleveland is, or heretofore has been, a plain, blunt unostentatious man to whom pumps and swallow-tails were abominations who rejoiced in thick stogas boots and liked to work in his shirt-sleeves. When he was elected President he gave notice to quit to all flummeries he found in the White House, and signified his intention of getting up at 6 o'clock in the morning, doing two hours' work before eating, and sitting down to breakfast at 8. The household was notified that those who desired to eat the morning meal with the President must be at the table promptly at that hour or forfeit their hot coffee and rolls. When Mr. Cleveland travelled he wished it to be understood that he paid his own way, that he would accept no deadhead passes or special cars, but would buy his ticket to his destination, just as a dry goods drummer would, and take his chance often seat the same as any ordinary passenger.

The President has just started on a pleasure trip to the Adirondacks with his handsome and attractive wife. He goes in a special car provided by the Delaware and Hudson Railroad Company and according to the descript on given of the carriage, it is more gorgeous and luxurious than any similar conveyance ever supplied for travelling Queens or Emperors. It is an ahogany palace, mounted on twelve paper wheels of the newest pattern, which travel noiselessly over the iron rails. The berths when shut into the sides of the car take the appearance of richly gilded panelled mirrors. In a spacious bedroom stands the Presidential couch, placed across the car; a handsomely ornamented and throne-like piece of furniture, made of highly polished and frosted brass upholstered, and surmounted by an elaborately carved coronet. The chairs of richly embossed green leather, as soft as velvet, are made to extend into sofas, and the curtains are of expensive heavy silk and real lace. "The crushed-raspberry stained-glass windows," we are told, "filter the light and fill the car with a soft, sumptuous radiance that is very quieting to overworked nerves."

This is indeed a change from the customs that prevailed in the White House circle a year ago the 4th of last March.

National Bank Circulation.

THE REDUCTION NOT AS GREAT AS WAS ANTICIPATED.

[Special dispatch to the Boston Journal.]

WASHINGTON Aug. 18. The national bank circulation is feeling the effects of the bond calls, but not to any such extent as was anticipated in the reports of Comptrollers Knox and Cannon. Mr. Cannon's last report indicated the liability of a reduction of $30,000,000 in the circulation during the then ensuing year, but this was based on a continuation of the policy of calling bonds, which was about that time suspended. But in the last six months some $40,000,000 or $50,000,000 of bonds have been called and every call cuts deeper into the three per cents held by the banks to secure circulation.

In the earliest calls less than half the bonds in each call were bank bonds. Soon the proportion became more than half and now it has nearly reached four-fifths, not all of it, however, being bonds deposited to secure circulation. In the last call for ten million bonds, $7,047,750 were bonds deposited to secure circulation, and $749,000 were bonds to secure deposits, making in all $7,796,750. But the circulation of the banks, however, is not coming down so rapidly as the calling in of bonds since the beginning of the calendar year would indicate.

The national bank currency outstanding July 1, 1884, was $338,384,274. One year later it had diminished a little more than twenty millions and was $318,631,328. In the past thirteen months and a half the diminution has been a little more than thirteen millions. The circulation to-day was $305,437,192.

This reduction in bank circulation will open the way for silver certificates, though it doesn't do much for silver coins The silver men, who never tire of denouncing the Eastern bankers for entertaining unfriendly feelings for silver, ought to take some interest in a table that has just been prepared in the office of the Comptroller of the Currency. It shows the capital and deposits and gold and silver and other money in the national banks in all the silver producing States and Territories. These banks in California, Colorado, Dakota, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico and Utah on June 3, the last date on which reports were called for, held $417,940 in silver coin and certificates, all but $33,250 being in coin, and they held $4,159,457 in gold coin and certificates. If there be anything in the arguments of the silver champions the banks of the silver regions are decidedly unfriendly to the white metal.

The Suicide of Mr. Gray.

[Boston Journal.]

The finding of the body of William Gray, Jr., dead by his own hand, is the not unexpected sequel of one of the most painful stories of financial unfaithfulness to which Boston has listened for many a day. The nature which was too weak to resist temptation was too weak also to endure exposure and disgrace and to face the consequences of crime. Suicide is sometimes pathetic, but never here. There is that in the end of this defaulter which evokes pity, but nothing which clears his record or excuses his offence. The tragedy carries with it its own dreadful lesson, which it needs no moralist to emphasize. Sunday Mr. Gray was seemingly happy, prosperous, an object perhaps for envy as he entertained his friends cordially upon his yacht; in forty-eight hours his name was blazoned as a defaulter, and his life was taken by his own act. This shocking transformation, it must be remembered, was of his own doing. The tragedy which ended on Blue Hill began when the first downward step was taken. Death in some form awaits us all. It is not this so much as the undermining of character, the departure from rectitude, which is the deplorable and dreadful thing in this most painful case. With those to whom this tragedy brings personal and irreparable grief the sincerest sympathy must be felt.

The White Winged Racers.

The New York Herald of Wednesday reports that in spite of attempts to exclude the public large crowds of people visited the dry dock to inspect the British cutter Galatea, and it says the yacht was much admired.

THE GALATEA

Below the water line a heavy coat of plumbago has been laid on, and workmen yesterday were rubbing it smooth till her plating shown like satin beneath the manipulation. At the suggestion of Mr. Clark, who has charge of her preparation, the hollow in the upper edge of her plank sheer just above the red ribbon has been gilded, and the contrasting colors of crimson and gold set off her gunwale sheer now in the most charming style, and heighten the geometrical beauty of her model. There was but one verdict among the throng yesterday, and that was, "She's a beauty."

THE CUTTER'S CHANCES.

The Galatea will be lowered at 10 o'clock this morning and towed down to Bay Ridge, and probably take a spin down the bay this afternoon. Her chances of carrying off the cup were largely discussed yesterday, and the general opinion was that the steel cutter is "dangerous." "Give us a breeze" said the sturdy Bilton, Captain Bradford, "and she will run away with it." "A breeze is what we want," said a Boston yachtsman yesterday, "and when the Puritan drops that centerboard the cutter will think as the Genesta's people did last season in that squall, that it is blowing."

THE AMERICAN LOOKS.

The yacht Puritan arrived late last evening and anchored off Bay Ridge. This morning at half past ten o'clock she will be lifted out on the screw dock at the foot of Market street, East River, and prepared for the trial contests, the first of which takes place on Saturday, the 21st inst.

The sloop Priscilla will also morrow be lifted out on the screw dock at the foot of Market street for her preparation for the trial contests.

The sloop Mayflower came through the East River yesterday at one P. M., and was towed to Govanus Creek, when she anchored off the foot of Court street, South Brooklyn. At high water this morning she will be hauled out for her preparation for Deming & Lawrence's railway.

The sloop Atlantic was lifted on the dry dock at the foot of Twenty-sixth street, South Brooklyn, yesterday morning. She will receive a thorough coat of pot lead under water for the trial contests. Heretofore she has been on a line of bronze paint. She has been lightened some tons of her inside ballast, and her admirers think that in next Saturday's race—over the New York Yacht Club course—the Elsworth craft will be the first boat in, whatever she may do in the future contests. The trial contests of these four big sloop yachts, each and all of which are in the most superb condition for racing, bid fair to be the most interesting yacht races by far that were ever sailed in this country.

MAINE NEWS.

FROM MACHIAS.

Washington County Democrats.

MACHIAS, Aug. 19. The Democratic County Convention was held in Machias to-day. Hon. John C. Talbot, of East Machias, presided. Upwards of one hundred delegates attended. The nominations are: For Senators, Frank N. Sawyer, Eben A. Holmes; Sheriff, Horace M. Leighton; County Attorney, Edgar Whidden; Register of Deeds, William McGlauflin; Treasurer, John F. Harmon; Commissioners, James M. Leighton, Nahum Horsman, Calvin Frost, of New York, addressed the convention in the afternoon.

FROM FRYEBURG.

Stable Burned—Loss $8,000.

FRYEBURG, Aug. 19. Capt. George H. Bradbury's house, the Governor Dana mansion, was discovered to be on fire early this morning. The stable, containing fifteen tons of hay, five carriages, etc., is a total loss. The main house was saved but terribly gutted by fire and water from the Water Company's hydrants. The furniture was saved in a damaged condition. The loss is about $8,000. Insured in the Imperial Phoenix and Northern companies in Files' agency; on building $6,000; on furniture $1,000. The fire was undoubtedly incendiary.

FROM THOMASTON.

Crushed Under a Fall of Earth.

THOMASTON, Aug. 19. Charles B. Abbott, aged 35, while at work this morning in Eugene Fales' quarry was crushed by a bank of earth falling on him. He died one hour afterwards. He was a native of New Hampshire and had lived here nine years. He was an excellent citizen. He has a mother in Bangor.

FROM LEWISTON.

Assignment of Lewiston Steam Mill Co.

LEWISTON, Aug. 19. The Lewiston Steam Mill Co. have made an assignment to E. E. Packard and A. P. Savage. The liabilities on notes and accounts are $81,700.00 of this $58,000 is contingent, S. & J. on the same being paper of C. F. Williams and Russell, Shaens & Co., of Boston. The personal property of the company is estimated at $60,000. The other property is not estimated.

FROM OLD ORCHARD.

Portland District Campmeeting.

OLD ORCHARD, Aug. 18. At the Portland District Campmeeting this morning there was a consecration meeting for the church, led by Rev. J. M. Woodbury, of Conway. Five hundred attended. At 10.30 services in the grove. Rev. Charles Parsons preached from the text, "This is the will of God." S. Julius Hearst, preached. Rev. Mr. Hart lead the altar services. Many souls were saved. There is the largest attendance for several years and more interest is manifested than in any previous district meeting.

The meeting this afternoon listened to a sermon by Rev. Mr. Mitchell, of Oxford, from Matthew v., 8. The church was completely filled.

The Musical Festival.

The musical festival this afternoon and evening drew a large audience. The artists were Miss G. E. C. Bullinton, soprano, Miss Nettie F. Clark, alto, Mr. T. E. Johnson, tenor, H. P. Eddy, accompanist, Mr. H. K. Clark, director, and the affair was in every way successful.

SAGADAHOC COUNTY REPUBLICANS.

To-day Convention at Bath.

BATH, Aug. 19.

At the Sagadahoc County Republican Convention, held in the City Hall to-day, 14 delegates were present. William T. Hall, of Richmond, was chairman, and Cyrus W. Ludgley, of Bath, secretary. Nominations: For Senator, Benjamin F. Hinckley, of Georgetown; County Treasurer, Hiram Welch, of Bath; County Attorney, Frank D. Baker, of Richmond; Register of Deeds, George W. Hunt, of Bath; Sheriff, John W. Ballou, of Bath; County Commissioners, John D. Bibber, of Bath, Nathaniel S. Parington, of Bowdoin; Clerk of Courts, Joseph M. Hayes, of Bath. Resolutions were adopted—That we heartily approve and endorse the platform as adopted by the Republican State convention held at Lewiston June 9th, 1886. That we most cheerfully commend to the Republicans of Sagadahoc County the candidacy of Hon. J. R. Lodwell, Republican candidate for Governor, and all the nominees of this convention for county officers; that we heartily and emphatically endorse the generous and manly views of our candidate for Governor in his letter of acceptance, touching the interests and welfare of the laborer, and as Republicans we pledge our influence and cordial support to just and all just measures of legislation that will tend to dignify the labor of our State and reward it at all times with ample returns, and protect it from unjust encroachment from whatever source emanating.

FROM LAKE MARANACOOK.

Excursion of Lewiston Catholics.

LAKE MARANACOOK, Aug. 19. The Catholic society from Lewiston were here today. There was a fair audience and a lovely day. There was boating, swinging and dancing in the pavilion to the music of Perkins' orchestra of Lewiston. The day was one of enjoyment. Swan had the multitude in his usual satisfactory manner. All went home happy on a special train at 5.30 P. M.

FROM BAR HARBOR.

The Moseley Hall Cup—The Horse Tournament—Other Matters.

BAR HARBOR, Aug. 19. The tennis match between Paddock and Clark was played off at Mossley Hall this morning. Clarke won the prize cup of silver, valued at $50.

The horse tournament took place this afternoon in front of the Rodick Hotel. A large number of people were in attendance, the hotel piazzas and lawns being crowded. Three arches were erected on Cottage street, decorated with bunting, from which rings were suspended. The tournament began promptly at four o'clock, just as the sun shone out after a slight shower of rain. Col. H. Kyd Douglas presided and opened the exercises with a brief speech. The entries were Mrs. R. Taylor of Baltimore, C. Heiser of Providence, C. Wright of Philadelphia, Harry McKeen of Philadelphia, F. Harrison, N. Harrison, Nickerson, Girard and Ridge, of West Point.

In the contest, Fairfax Harrison stood first, Nickerson second, Girard third and Ridge fourth. The judges were Judge Lawrence, New York; Major Douglass, Mayor Hodges, Baltimore; Chief Herald, H. Higgins, New York.

There is a ball at Rodick's in honor of the Queen of Beauty, the choice of whom lies with the winner of the tournament. The games to-day was witnessed by Mr. Matthew Arnold, Hon. James G. Blaine and other notables. The roofs of cottages and verandas in the vicinity was crowded with gazers.

Yachts arrived are the Ruth, New York, owner, Henry Marquaud; Adrienne, Boston, owner, C. B. Lancaster; Nettie, Belfast, owner, Samuel Holt.

There is a hop to-night at the Grand Central.

FROM AUGUSTA.

Maine Woolen Manufacturers.

AUGUSTA, Aug. 19. The quarterly meeting of the Maine Woolen Manufacturers' Club was held here to-day. Fourteen members were in attendance. Labor matters were considered.

THE IRISH NATIONAL LEAGUE.

The Convention Permanently Organized.

A Little Ripple of Disturbance Quickly Allayed.

A Patriotic Series of Resolutions Adopted.

John Fitzgerald Elected President.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19. In caucus last night Judge Fitzgerald, temporary chairman of the National League convention, was selected as permanent presiding officer and his name will be presented to-day. Patrick Egan declined the honor of renomination as president of the League and suggested the name of John Fitzgerald, of Nebraska. The latter gentleman was then notified to be prepared to address the convention. Fitzgerald is a broker and is said to be worth $5,000,000.

Nearly 550 delegates to the convention representing the New York, New Jersey, Iowa, Pennsylvania and Kentucky and Sullivan's ass, presided over by Counsellor John J. O'Gorman of New York, finished a secret conclave at the Palmer House at an early hour this morning. It was finally resolved to stand by Hugh McCaffrey of Philadelphia, for president of the League. It is feared that this action will bring on a bitter and prolonged fight for the office.

The Permanent Organization.

The convention was called to order at 10.50. On motion of Michael Davitt the temporary organization was made permanent. Judge Fitzgerald then rose and thanked the convention for the honor of the position.

A Dispatch from Ireland.

When chairman Fitzgerald ceased speaking Hon. John F. Finerty rose in his seat for the purpose, he said, of reading a cablegram addressed to him. The reading was greeted with cheers. The message was as follows:

DUBLIN, Aug. 19.

Finerty, Chicago Convention:—

The manhood of Ireland is with you and trusts the convention will by resolution endorse Ireland's rights and resolve to be free.

(Signed)

CHAS. MCCARTHY FLEMING, Dublin.

A Bit of a Tempest.

Mr. Davitt rose and said that he desired to say a word in explanation. He did not question the right of any one in Ireland to send a despatch from Ireland, but said that Mr. Fleming had no right to speak for the people of Ireland. He was not a member of the League and I say that Messrs. Redmond, Deasy and myself have the right to speak for the people of Ireland. (Loud applause.)

Confusion for a time prevailed but comparative order having been restored Finerty said: "I am surprised to see the father of the Land League rise in his place and quest on that telegram." Here another scene of confusion ensued. In the midst of the uproar Finerty was heard to say, "It is what we have believed for 20 years and I shall hold to my view for the freedom of Ireland to the day of my death. If Teeling is not in the League, if he holds to that sentiment he is certainly entitled to belong to it."

Another scene of confusion ensued. Mr. Finerty declined to say anything further and ceased speaking. He was cheered by the main body of the convention. Mr. Davitt arose and said he could not dispute the right of Mr. Finerty to desire the freedom of Ireland and would not do so. This acted as a quieter and the uproar subsided.

The committee on credentials reported the list of regular delegates. The committee on resolutions reported through Secretary Mr. Betts as follows:

Report of Committee on Resolutions.

Your committee on resolutions respectfully submit the following report: We, the delegates of the Irish League of America, in convention assembled, firmly believing in the principles of human freedom and in the right of the people to frame their own laws, a right which lies at the foundation of the prosperity and greatness of this republic, and which has been advantageously extended to the colonial possessions of Great Britain, do hereby resolve: First, that we express our heartiest and most unqualified approval of national self-government for Ireland.

Second, That we heartily approve of the course pursued by Parnell and his parliamentary associates in the English House of Commons, and we renew the expression of our entire confidence in their wisdom and in their ability to achieve home rule in Ireland.

Third, That we extend our heartfelt thanks to Gladstone for his great efforts in behalf of Irish self-government; and we express our gratitude to the English, Scotch and Welsh Democracy for the support given to the great Liberal leader and his Irish policy during the recent general elections.

Fourth, Resolved, that this convention hereby returns its thanks to the American people and press for the generous support which they have given to the cause of self-government for Ireland.

Fifth, That we record our sense of the remarkable forbearance and self-restraint exercised by our people in Ireland in face of the cruel and dishonest system of extortion to which they are being subjected by rack-renting landlords, and in view of the license scandalously extended to organized lawlessness in the north of Ireland by partisan officials; and we commend the laudable desire of the people of Ireland to manage their own affairs in their own way.

Sixth, That we hereby thank the President, Treasurer and Secretary of the Irish National League for the faithful and efficient manner in which they have discharged the arduous duties of their respective stations.

Seventh, That the following cablegram be forwarded in the name of the chairman of the convention to Hon. Charles Stewart Parnell:

The delegates to the Irish National League Convention of America send greeting from our body, which embraces representative citizens from every State and Territory in the Union, and also from Canada, and assure you of the cordial endorsement of your policy by a united and harmonious convention.

The reading of the resolutions was followed by hearty cheering.

Mr. Finerty moved that the resolutions be adopted, section by section. Cries of "no, no."

Mr. Armstrong, of Georgia, seconded this motion.

After some debate the resolutions were unanimously adopted as read, by the convention, amid wild cheering.

The chairman then introduced Mr. Redmond.

Mr. Redmond's Speech.

Mr. Redmond in his speech before the convention said the principle embodied in the Irish movement to-day is just the same principle which was the soul of every Irish movement for the last seven centuries, a settlement honorable to England and Ireland. Such a settlement we believe was offered us by Mr. Gladstone and Ireland was willing to shake hands with her hereditary foe.

But once again the policy of conciliation has been cast aside by England. The duty of the moment is clear. We have given England the most convincing proof that on the concession of liberty England and Ireland can be trusty friends and it now remains for us to prove for the thousandth time that as slaves we can be formidable foes. The government of Ireland by England is an impossibility to-day. The old struggle will be revived and before three months are over the new government will be forced as of old in defence of the rents of landlords to attempt to forge anew the fetters of coercion.

The convention at 1.10 P. M., upon conclusion of Mr. Robinson's speech adjourned to 3 o'clock this afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The delegates to the convention gathered tardily again this afternoon, and not till 3.45 did Judge Fitzgerald rap to order and Secretary Sutton begin reading the minutes of yesterday's proceedings. During the reading Mrs. Parnell entered and was greeted with tremendous applause. The minutes being adopted, W. P. O'Connor read the report of the committee on constitution and announced that it had already been endorsed by Messrs. Davitt, Redmond and Deasey. The report defined the objects of the League and the methods to be employed in attaining those objects, the remaining sections providing for the organization of the League and the transaction of its business.

A Boycott of British Goods.

It should be understood that this convention does not commit itself on either side of one of the greatest questions in American politics. A delegate from Boston held aloft a sample of English lace. In Boston, he said, they were already introducing British woolens. They could strike England nowhere but in her pocket. There was a chorus of "Questions," and amid the uproar the previous question was ordered and the section remained in. There was practically no opposition.

The Scene of Enthusiasm

that ensued surpassed any that had before occurred in the convention. The delegates rose en masse and cheered, shouted and waved their arms till it seemed as if the excitement was never to cease. The section was as follows:

"Section 5—To hurt the enemy where he will feel it most by refusing to purchase any articles of English manufacture and by using all legitimate influences to discourage tradesmen from keeping English manufactures on sale."

The report of the committee on finance was read and showed that $320,282.57 had been collected in the last two years and mentioned the exact sum to a cent that had been remitted to Mr. Parnell or his trustees.

Only $75,000 of the entire sum was still in the hands of the treasurer. A vote of thanks to Father O'Reilly was passed.

Additional Contributions.

Mr. Brady, of Massachusetts, reported an amendment to the treasurer's report in the shape of a check for $300. The amendment was accepted warmly. Mr. Brady suggested that the Massachusetts system of $5 each be extended all over the United States, and $3,500 showed the results of such a system. At this point the chairman recognized the treasurer of the League and Father O'Reilly, who said they had heard from the men who had carried the muskets in the ranks, said now they should hear from those men who had carried the purse. The treasurer read the amount so thrusted by each State. The reading of it then proceeded with and checks for various amounts were handed in. Secretary Sutton's report was read and accepted.

Electing a President.

The election of a League president being next in order Mr. Brennan of Nebraska nominated John Fitzgerald of Chicago. Mr. A Pennsylvania delegate nominated Hugh C. McCaffrey of Philadelphia. Mr. O'Connor seconded Fitzgerald's nomination and a Pennsylvania man that of McCaffrey. A number of speeches for one or the other of the nominees were made, and ill-feeling seemed to be growing, when Mr. McCaffrey moved that Fitzgerald be elected by acclamation. The speeches continued and great confusion followed. John Finerty finally seconded Fitzgerald's nomination in the interest of harmony, and moved the previous question.

Then a delegate nominated M. V. Canon, of Ohio, but the noise was so great that few heard him.

Nearly Every man was on his Feet.

and State delegations were beginning to hold impromptu meetings, when the chairman declared a recess. At 7 P. M. there were signs of full content and things seemed to be at a fever heat in the New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania delegations. Finally a roll call was demanded and the result showed: Fitzgerald 703, McCaffrey 244. McCaffrey congratulated Fitzgerald and moved that his election be made unanimous which being done, Mr. McCaffrey was appointed to conduct the new President to the chair.

Further Election of Officers.

President Fitzgerald took the chair and made a brief speech, thanking the convention for the honor conferred on him and saying that he was more proud to be elected President of the League than President of the United States. Mr. Egan nominated Mr. McCaffrey for Vice-President and he was unanimously elected. Rev. Father McKenna was made second Vice-President and Gen. Martin, of Baltimore, 3d.

Rev. Father O'Reilly and Mr. Sutton were re-elected Treasurer and Secretary respectively. Speeches were made by Messrs. Deasy, Davitt, O'Brien and Mrs. Parnell, Mr. Davitt congratulating the convention on its harmonious action. Mr. Finerty, of Chicago, caused a commotion by the introduction of a resolution advocating force in freeing Ireland, but quiet was quickly restored and the convention adjourned at 11 P. M. till 10 o'clock to-morrow.

THE LOWELL BLEACHERY DEFALCATION.

What Treasurer Lowell Says About It.

BOSTON, Aug. 19. The Globe will say to-morrow, on the authority of Percival Lowell, one of the committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the Lowell Bleachery Company, and its present treasurer, that the shortage of the late Treasurer Samuel G. Snelling will reach about $198,000. Snelling had drawn large sums from the company's treasury and just previous to the annual meeting the clerk inquired of Snelling if the directors knew that such large sums had been withdrawn, the amount then being $131,000. To the clerk's surprise Snelling replied that the directors knew nothing whatever of the matter.

The clerk reported to Director Richardson, and at a meeting Snelling admitted the fact, also stating that he had taken $12,000 more. The very next day the committee discovered that an additional $35,000 had been taken. Snelling admitted his irregular management and said he lost his money in a business transaction with James Diggles, of New York. The corporation did not cause his arrest at that time, simply because they could not hope to recover the money or gain anything by such a course. Mr. Lowell said the present action against Snelling was out of their hands and was in the hands of the Attorney General. The arrest was made because the public good demanded it.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Yesterday was cool and cloudy and early in the afternoon there was a heavy shower.

We are informed that Mrs. Mary A. McLaughlin has purchased the Josiah S. Ricker residence on Essex street.

Public meeting of the Crusade this evening; held in the Reading Rooms, Franklin street. All are cordially invited.

Hotels and boarding and lodging houses at Bar Harbor remain full, and cots are used in the several hotels each night.

Peaches are not arriving here in very large quantities as yet. The supply this year is thought to be rather smaller than usual.

There will be a special meeting of the A. O. H. this evening at eight o'clock, at which business of special importance is to be transacted.

The remains of the late Mrs. Mary J. Rich, who died in Chelsea, Mass., Tuesday, will be buried to-day at North Buxsport, in the family cemetery.

The Flying Yankee run over and killed a cow just beyond High Head late yesterday afternoon. The name of the owner of the animal was not learned.

Conductor Cahill's Flying Yankee to the west yesterday afternoon was a very heavy train. There were over two hundred passengers on board many being from the east.

The hackmen complain that Railroad street is rough and in very bad condition. Street Commissioner Page, with his usual promptness, will no doubt attend to their wants.

The lumbermen are becoming impatient in regard to the West Branch drive, and say that it is coming along altogether too slowly. Yesterday it was on Passadumkeag ripS.

The repairs on the Cimbria are so nearly completed that she will make her regular trip Saturday. She has received a new coat of paint which much improves her appearance.

Two good sized cargoes of coal arrived here yesterday for the Maine Central. The Susie P. Oliver brought 428 tons and the Anna W. Barker 360 tons. Both are now discharging.

Several members of the Kineo Club, who have been enjoying so fine a time at Kineo, returned home last evening. The remainder of the club are now yet ready to leave the resort.

Several Bangor sporting men left on the train yesterday afternoon for Fairfield, to attend the horse trots which take place there to-day. A number of others will go over this morning.

The travel cityward from the seashore has not fairly commenced. There will be much warm weather experienced yet and the people at the different resorts prefer to have it there rather than in the dusty cities.

The members of St. John's Temperance Society made their annual excursion to Islesboro yesterday on the Ralph Ross and barge Clifford. The party was not a very large one, but the excursion was quite a success.

The directors of the Bangor and Piscataquis Railroad held their regular quarterly meeting yesterday at their office. All were present except R. S. Morison, Esq. No business was transacted of particular public interest.

The sale of timber lands by Auctioneer C. S. Pearl in City Hall yesterday morning was fairly well attended. There were four bidders and the 15,000 acres were finally sold to Hon. W. B. Hayford for the firm of Hayford & Stetson, at 53½ cents per acre. The land is all in Aroostook County.

Several Bangor young men who play base ball have been trying this week to form a nine and make an excursion to Castine to play against a nine composed of summer visitors there. They were unable to make certain of the desired arrangements and the trip was therefore given up, but may be made later.

In response to an invitation by Rev. S. W. Chaplin and wife, their friends and parishioners in Holden filled the parsonage to overflowing Wednesday evening. Social intercourse, with a musical and literary programme and ice cream and other refreshments, helped to make the evening pass quickly, and it was pronounced a very enjoyable occasion.

We have received from Ticket Agent A. W. Benson, of the Maine Central, an elegant little publication entitled "A Bouquet from the Garden of the Gods," issued by the Passenger Department of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway. It is descriptive of Manitou and the other beautiful summer resorts of Colorado and is splendidly illustrated.

President Arthur Sewall of the Maine Central with his party in their private car, came down from Moosehead Lake on the train yesterday afternoon after having passed two very pleasant days at Kineo. They took tea in this city at the Maine Central restaurant and left for the west on the night train, passing the night at the Elmwood Hotel in Waterville.

The Steamboat Inspectors were in Dexter Wednesday, and inspected the pretty little steamer Ivy on the pond there. She was found to be in good condition. Yesterday Capt. Flowers went to Lewiston where he was joined by Mr. Staples and to-day Poland Springs will be visited and the steamer near that resort inspected. From there they go to Sebago Lake also on business.

Capt. S. H. Barbour has a splendid trip planned for next winter. Together with his family, he will leave for Florida late this fall in the elegant little steamer Silver Star, built in Brewer this spring. The boat is fitted up finely for such a trip with a family party. They intend passing the winter in Florida and cruising in the Gulf of Mexico, and the captain will sell the steamer in the spring if he finds a ready purchaser.

The Boston and Maine Directors' car came up from Bar Harbor on Conductor McIntire's train, yesterday noon. On board were President Lord, of that road, and Hon. Frank Jones, of Portsmouth, one of the Directors, and a party of ladies. In this city Manager Lowell, of the Maine Central restaurant, served an elegant dinner in the car, accompanying the party west as far as Waterville, there not being time here to finish the repast. The car went directly through to Boston.

Hon. Moses Giddings, of this city, Hon. E. F. Webb, of Waterville, and Rev. Dr. Joseph Ricker, of Augusta, the committee on the part of Colby University for the building of a new structure for Houlton Academy, returned on the Flying Yankee yesterday noon from a visit to Houlton in relation to the matter. They met the Trustees of the Academy and held a consultation in regard to the location of the building, its plans, etc., and made other arrangements for its immediate construction. The committee will soon make Houlton another visit.

The western mails last evening did not arrive on the Flying Yankee, as usual, but came on the second passenger train. These mails leave Boston on the first train in the morning, and when the Flying Yankee overtakes it at Biddeford the closed mail is transferred and thus reaches here more than one hour earlier than it otherwise would. Yesterday the mail train was five minutes late and the Yankee did not wait for the mail. The second train was about an hour late into Bangor.

AN ENJOYABLE FAMILY REUNION. The annual reunion of the Farrington family occurred yesterday at the pleasant homestead of B. B. Farrington, Esq., in Brewer and was a complete success in every particular. Early in the forenoon about seventy-five or eighty members of the family gathered at the place mentioned and all came prepared for a good time. Social conversation with stories and the usual pleasantry of such reunions comprised the programme. The dinner and the speeches following were all relished and it seemed as if all had developed into orators for the time being. The party dispersed late in the afternoon voting the reunion one of the best ever held and all resolving to attend next year. Mr. B. B. Farrington carried off the honors of the occasion as host entertaining his guests in the pleasantest possible manner.

THE CUTTER WOODBURY. The revenue cutter Woodbury remained here until shortly after noon yesterday when she left for Castine. She improved her stay in port to obtain a good supply of pure water and have a general cleaning up. Messrs. E. H. Blake and A. H. Babcock left for a short trip on the cutter as the guests of Capt. Dean. The vessel has been cruising very quietly since receiving her repairs in Portland. Only one event has occurred to break the general monotony. That was at Great Duck Island on Monday where the schooner Inez, of Milbridge, on her way from Boston to Milbridge, light, ran ashore last Saturday. The cutter pulled her off on Monday and towed her to South West Harbor. The life saving crew at Cranberry Isle rendered very valuable aid to the cutter and the officers of the vessel speak in the highest praise of the crew's efficiency. The Inez was very badly damaged.

THE ISMA AND SUSIE MAY. Capt. Barbour's little steamer Susie May which has been running at Fort Point and Northport recently, sailed up to this city some time during Wednesday night and yesterday morning went upon the steamer Isma's route between this city and Hampden. The latter boat was hauled off and will receive a new coat of paint and be otherwise improved preparatory to a great rush during New England Fair week. This boat has become very popular during the time she has been running and travel on the line has increased so greatly that she is unable to accommodate it. The Hampden people are especially pleased with the boat. The company has hired the Susie May for one month and both will run on the line one leaving Hampden at the same time the other leaves here. Capt. Higgins will command the Susie May.

OBITUARY.

Enoch P. Eastes.

Z. P. Eastes, Esq., another old and well known citizen of Bangor, died about half-past six o'clock last evening at the age of 76 years. Mr. Eastes has been gradually failing for a long time but it was not until three weeks ago that his last confinement to his residence commenced. The deceased was born in Gardiner and passed the earlier portion of his life there. Upon becoming of age he came to Belfast and went into the foundry business for himself. In 1840 he came to Hampden where he formed a copartnership with Nathaniel Whittier, of this city and they built a large foundry. It was here that they commenced the manufacture of the Hampden stove which became so widely known and is still to be seen in some places.

After a most successful business in Hampden the firm came here and built a large foundry upon what is now Centre Park. Here they continued their stove manufacture for two or three years, when their foundry was burned out and they then built the establishment on the Hampden road, now occupied by Wood, Bishop & Co. At this place they remained in business until 1870, and were one of the best known firms in this line. At the date mentioned they sold out to Wood & Bishop. Since then Mr. Eastes has been practically retired from business, although he had for some time a large interest in a foundry in Waterville.

Mr. Eastes was first married in 1830 to Miss Joanna Sewall, of Gardiner, who died some years after their marriage. For his second wife he married in 1850 Mrs. Thomas, of Hampden, who still survives him. Mr. Eastes leaves six children by his first marriage as follows: Mrs. Jonathan Holt, of Bangor, Mrs. John Harris, of Belfast, Mrs. Luke Bemis, of Waltham, Mass., Mrs. Dunham, of Lynn, Mass., Mrs. Kimball, of New York, Mr. Charles H. Eastes, Bangor. Mr. Eastes had been a member of the Common Council from Ward Two. He was a most worthy citizen and a man of enterprise, upright in all his dealings, of a genial disposition and highly esteemed by a large circle of friends.

An Elegant Party.

There was a very brilliant assemblage of the most prominent people of Bangor society last evening at the elegant residence of Mrs. Isaiah Stetson, on Union street, in response to several hundred invitations. Mrs. Stetson purposes taking her family to Andover to reside while her son is at the Academy there fitting for college, and the party last evening partook of the nature of a farewell reception, although all were glad to feel that the amiable hostess is to leave our city only temporarily. The spacious grounds were prettily illuminated by Japanese lanterns and the drawing rooms were very richly decorated with cut flowers, trailing vines, ferns and golden rod.

Mrs. Stetson was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Hannibal Hamlin and Miss Crosby, and for nearly two hours there was a constant arrival of guests. The most delightful music was discourse by Andrews' full orchestra, part of the time out of doors and later in the upper hall. The refreshments furnished and served by Field's Music Hall and a corps of skillful assistants were of the very choicest character and most tempting variety.

Notwithstanding the large number of guests the commodious apartments afforded ample room for moving about and thus rendered the occasion peculiarly sociable. The company included quite a proportion of the younger folks, and formed a very enjoyable combination. At a late hour the guests bade their hostess good night with sincerest wishes for the health and welfare of herself and family during their absence, and for their return to spend many happy years in the city where they are held in such high esteem.

The A. O. H. Excursion.

The excursion of Penobscot Division, No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, from this city to Maranacook next Tuesday, will undoubtedly be the grandest excursion ever given under the auspices of this organization and that is saying a great deal, as they have taken some big crowds out of Bangor. In the first place people from all parts of the State will be present at Maranacook and help swell the crowd, while from this city the party will no doubt number nearly 1,000. The athletic sports will be the means of drawing a great part of the party. The most unique contest will be the rifle match for the magnificent gold medal now on exhibition at Pol's. For this several of the best shots in Bangor and surrounding towns have entered and others in Portland and Lewiston will probably compete, as a fifty dollar gold medal is not offered every day.

The next important contest will be the hundred yard dash, and according to present indications the winner will be obliged to run very closely to ten seconds. Among the runners who have entered are P. Mack, J. H. Hanson and a barber named Jewett of this city, and there promises to be a hot race between these three. There is quite a long list of other sports which will be found in full in our advertising columns, together with the prizes offered. For those who are not in this line, there will be dancing in the pavilion, with music by Stone's orchestra of this city, while the many boats on the lake and swings in the groves, will no doubt be kept busy by the excursionists. Further arrangements will be announced in the WHIG from time to time as they are made.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

Officer Chas. Dunn, of Auburn, has settled his case by resigning, and no further investigation of the charge of intoxication was made Monday evening. John Mullaney has been acting as special in his place.

"We are building better than we knew," said B. W. Hutchins, Tuesday, speaking of the new box factory near the Grand Trunk curve in Auburn. The plans for Mr. Hutchins' box factory have been enlarged from 100 feet in length to 130 feet, and the building is to be one of the most substantial and most convenient manufactories in Auburn.

One of the wings of the exhibition building at the State Fair Ground will be devoted to the art exhibit, and Mr. Bracket, the premium list to assign space. The trustees met in Lewiston, Monday, and went to the track to locate the new building to be built for the Lewiston ladies for an exhibit for charitable purposes, a building in which all Maine ladies should feel an interest.

The Lewiston Tribune August 9th, says: "Detective Michael J. Crowe of the Central Station, returned to the city yesterday morning from Lewiston, Maine, having in charge the fugitive clerk of the Pelham Hotel. The detective was illegally detained—arrested in the Maine city shortly after his arrival there, by the attorney of Tenting, but was released by Judge Haskell who hinted that the Chicago officer had good grounds for instituting suit, styling the affair an outrageous proceeding and liable to lead to serious legal complications. The prisoner is charged with absconding with $300 in money and jewels belonging to a race-horse jockey named Withers, at present riding at the Washington Park races. It is probable that Officer Crowe will ask for damages from the authorities."

Cumberland.

The mate and cook of a vessel lying near the foot of India street, Portland, had a quarrel Monday afternoon, when the cook drew a pistol on the mate who took refuge in the rigging. Officers arrived and took the weapon away from the infuriated and intoxicated cook.

The $15,000 in gold that the Louisiana Lottery Company expressed to Portland men so me three months since at an expense of $127 has all—and fully as much more—found its way back to the company's treasury, with the tide still strong in that direction.

Mr. Charles Davis, of Portsmouth, a graduate of Bowdoin College, class of '86, has been elected instructor in natural science at the High school of Hyde Park, Illinois, a position for which there were thirteen applicants. Hyde Park is a suburb of Chicago.

Early Tuesday morning a man was seen hurrying up Exchange street, in search of a policeman. He said a poor tramp had appealed to him the night before for a lodging, but out of sympathy he took him to his own room. During the night the ungrateful wretch had robbed his benefactor and decamped.

The body of Maud Whitten, the last of the seven drowned off Great Diamond Island, was recovered Tuesday. The parents went down Tuesday, in search of their child, and soon saw it floating in the water, near where the body of young Cleve and two recovered before.

A little seven-year old daughter of Mr. Arthur Brown, of Sacoarappa, was dreadfully burned Monday evening. She had watched the older children light the candle inside of the jack o' lantern. While they were out of sight she tried to do the same thing. The wind prevented her from conveying the lighted match to the candle, so she placed it under her apron. Her mother heard her loud screams and hastened to the spot to see her child enveloped in flames. Her clothes were nearly all burned off. Its chest and neck were shockingly burned. It is uncertain how the case will terminate.

Harry Smythe, the printer, who was arrested Monday, for a murderous assault on another printer, Mr. Techa, was taken to Boston Tuesday by Police Sergeant Daly of the Boston force, per 8 P. M. train. Before he went he confessed that he made the assault on Techa because he knew Techa had money and he had failed to borrow any from a relative in Dedham, Mass. Smythe has stolen letters from the Dedham post office, and Smythe's father is in the house of correction for a murderous assault. It seems Smythe is the man who entered Robert Mitchell's store, 333 Commercial street lately, and stole a small show case, a valise, and some valuable papers. The show case and valise have been recovered, but Smythe says he threw the papers out of the car window between Boston and Dedham.

William N. Wasgatt, of Sullivan, lies dangerously ill in Belfast, of rose cancer on the neck from which physicians say he cannot recover. Mr. Wasgatt was lighthouse keeper for several years at Winter Harbor and's pa keeper of Swan's Island light.

The New York World says: The Misses Shannon, of Newton, Mass., deserve honorable mention in these days of selfish exclusiveness. The two ladies own a splendid residence at Bar Harbor, and have rooted in a spring on their grounds from which a boy serves glasses of the pure and delightful water to every one that passes.

Ruth Heath, mate of the schooner Flying Scud, which recently came into Bucksport from a fishing trip on Quero banks, says that it is customary often when working late at night to take a lunch before retiring. One evening while at work, one of the crew who was splitting the fish and taking out the intestines, found a man's hand in his stomach. Mr. Heath says they didn't eat any lunch that night.

The Gardiner Bridge Company has appealed to the court from the decision of the County Commissioners in making an appraisal of the Gardiner and Pittston bridges.

The Augusta Water Company have 1300 feet of pipe on the way to Augusta. They will commence the construction of their filtering house at the west end of the dam on Saturday night.

It has been said that corporations have no souls. The Augusta Water Company may be regarded as an exception to this rule, however. It was found necessary to lighter a portion of the last cargo of pipe from Mallowe't to Augusta and although not under obligation to do it the company paid for the captain of the vessel for the extra expense incurred. He was exceedingly pleased.

Recently a New York firm placed a check for $2500 in a letter which was placed in the possoffice directed to a gentleman named Martin, in Windsor, N. C. Instead of going as directed, the letter came to Windsor, Me., and was delivered to a man by the name of Martin in that town whose initials were like those of the address. He opened the letter, took the check out, showed it to his neighbors and went so far as to come to Augusta and obtain legal advice in regard to it. He was told here his best course would be to return the check to its makers, which he did.—Kennebec Journal.

Miss Lizzette Pillsbury, of Augusta, departed for Boston Monday, and will shortly commence the season with her company, playing a leading part in "The Wages of Sin." The company go west and to the Provinces, probably reaching Maine later in the season. Miss Pillsbury has accomplished a decided success furnishing dramatic correspondence for leading journals west; and has received many compliments on the brightness and raciness of her writings. She contemplates a trip to Europe next summer, sailing in June, says the Kennebec Journal.

A Narrow Escape.

A MAN RESCUED FROM DROWNING AFTER A SEVERE STRUGGLE.

[Old Orchard Sea Shell.]

About twelve o'clock Tuesday, the guests of the Lawrence who were in bathing were startled by discovering a man in the surf, apparently in a drowning condition. He was throwing up his hands and shouting "I am drowning; come and help me!" A boat was at once pushed into the water by Mr. Barton and Mr. J. A. Grose sprang in and seizing up a seat for a paddle made his way out to the man. As he reached him, the man exclaimed "My brave fellow, for God's sake save me!" But the boat was upset and Mr. Grose made his way back to the beach. The oars had been brought near within, and Mr. Barton and Mr. Chas. Tucker of Boston, taking these, swam out to the man. Young Tucker threw out his oar and it was seized by the drowning man. Tucker then seized the oar held by Mr. Barton and together they attempted to pull the man in. It was impossible and they came in. Young Tucker was so exhausted that his pulse had almost ceased to beat and he was carried to his room in a critical condition. But the men on shore did not intend to leave the brave swimmer to his fate. A line was formed by Messrs. Grose, Barton, Holbrook, Robinson, Hirt, McKay and Woodbridge and Mr. Grose held out an oar to the man. He seized it, and was drawn in. Two of the nine supported him to the beach, where he was given brandy. The gentlemen who had taken part in the rescue were pretty well exhausted and the man, who seemed to be revived by the brandy, made his way up the beach and disappeared behind the Aldine. As the hour of going to press, his identity had not been discovered. The surf was very heavy and had the man not been a wonderful swimmer, he must have drowned before help came. Mr. Tucker is recovering from the effects of his violent exertions. He swam like a hero and only gave it up when his strength was almost gone.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But unfortunately is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

Breaking Time

In dry and warm hard, until oil is applied after which it moves easily. When the joints or hinges, of the body are stiffened and inflamed by Rheumatism, they cannot be moved without causing the most excruciating pains. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by its action on the blood, relieves this condition, and restores the joints to good working order.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla has effected, in our city, many most remarkable cures in cases which baffled the efforts of the most experienced physicians. Were it necessary, I could give the names of many individuals who have been cured by taking this medicine. In my case it has worked wonders, relieving me of after I had troubled with it for years. In this, and all other diseases arising from impure blood, there is no remedy with which I am acquainted, that affords such relief as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.—R. H. Lawrence, M. D., Baltimore, Md.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured me of Gout and Rheumatism, when nothing else would. It has eradicated every trace of disease from my system.—R. B. Short, Manager Hotel Belmont, Lowell, Mass.

I was, during many months, a sufferer from chronic Rheumatism. The disease afflicted me grievously, in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took several bottles of this preparation, and was gradually restored to health.—A. Fream, Independence, Va.

THOUSANDS OF CASES OF

SICK

Headache are permanently cured every year (as the hundreds of testimonials in possession will testify) by the use of Dr. Leslie's Special Prescription. This Remedy stands to-day without a rival, and with scarcely a competitor in the world. Thousands of Physicians throughout the country have acknowledged their inability to cure it, and are now prescribing Dr. Leslie's Special Prescription for all cases of Sick in either its nervous, bilious or congestive form, arising from constipation, causing a sympathy of the liver. When I say that Dr. Leslie's Special Prescription will cure the most obstinate cases of Sick Headache, I mean just what I say, and that is, that it not merely relieves, but cures, no matter how long the case may have been standing.

HEADACHE

I have testimonials from persons who have been afflicted for twenty years, being confined to bed two or three days at a time every two weeks, that have been permanently cured by two bottles of Dr. Leslie's Special Prescription, so that they have not had a attack for over three years.

If you are troubled with Sick Headache and wish to be

CURED

BILIOUSNESS.

Bilious symptoms invariably arise from indigestion, such as furred tongue, vomiting of bile, giddiness, sick headache, irregular bowels. The liver secretes the bile and acts like a filter or sieve, to cleanse impurities of the blood. By irregularity in its action or suspensions of its functions, the bile is liable to overflow into the blood, causing jaundice, a too complexion, yellow eyes, bilious diarrhœa, a languid, weary feeling and many other distressing symptoms. Biliousness may be properly termed an affection of the liver, and can be thoroughly cured by the grand regulator of the liver and biliary organs, BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. It acts upon the stomach, bowels and liver, making healthy bile and pure blood, and opens the culverts and sluiceways for the outlet of disease. Sold everywhere and guaranteed to cure.

LETTER CARRIERS.

All letters are delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly.

Persons leaving their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have the street and number on. As a rule, they will be delivered earlier than if the same is put on at the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first trip supplying the citizens of their routes.

Collections are made morning, noon and evening in season for important mails.

Holidays the Carrier's Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A. M., and from 8 to 8½ P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carrier's department should be reported to the office.

IMMEDIATE DELIVERY.

Messenger boys are constantly in attendance to deliver letters with immediate delivery stamps, on arrival of all mails, and for local letters from 6 A. M. to 8.30 P. M., at which hour the office is closed. Persons depositing city letters will please pass them into the general delivery.

Letters arriving on Sunday morning are delivered on arrival.

ENVELOPES.

No additional charge will be made for putting the name and request to return, across the left hand upper corner of the envelope furnished by the Post Office Department, (samples of which may be seen at the Cashier's window) when ordered in lots of not less than 500.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within thirty days or less, written or printed, with the writers name, post office and State, across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with.

☞ The public are earnestly recommended to procure Stamped envelopes with printed return request, as the expense is low, and letters thus endorsed, if not delivered to the person addressed, are returned to the writer free of charge.

Stamped envelopes of above furnished at $22.26 per thousand.

Stamps cut from Stamped Envelopes cannot be used to prevent postage. The use of such Stamps is punishable by a fine of fifty dollars.

Stamped Envelopes, spoiled in directing, are redeemed at this office.

DOMESTIC POSTAGE.

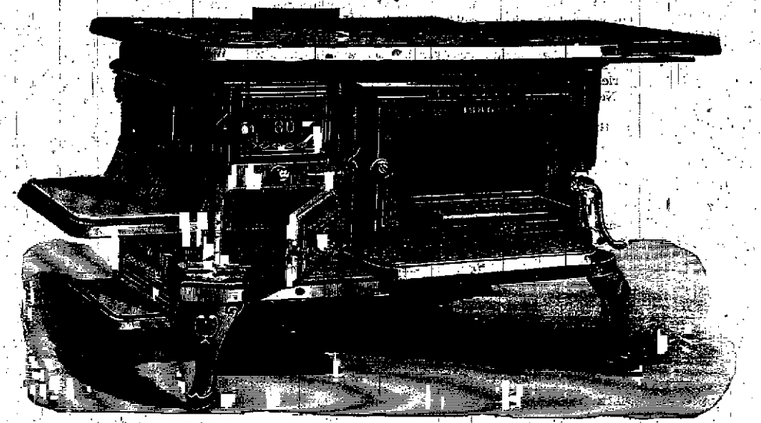
ROYAL CLARION COOKING RANGE.



IMPROVED 1886.

Wicket Oven Door with Pedal Attachment and Perfect Ventilation Secured with Fresh Air from Outside.

These valuable improvements can be applied to all Royal Clarion Ranges.

The Pedal is so arranged that the oven door can be thrown open with a slight touch of the foot, saving the use of hand or holder (as the door knobs are always hot). The Wicket Door is made to drop, and forms a shelf (as seen in the above cut). This Wicket Door will be found useful in the process of baking or roasting, to open and see how the work is being done without detriment to the article being cooked, and in roasting, basting can be done without cooling the oven to any perceptible degree. The ventilation at the top of the oven door, in connection with the oven ventilator at the top of side of oven, as applied to our Royal Clarion, makes a completely ventilated oven, and for practical use the most perfect baking oven known to man. This production of 1886, with our many improvements, make the Royal Clarion Ranges the most desirable ever put upon the market.
